Premiums are Better Tax Deductible from 2010 on - Ensure Your Advantages

From 2010 on the premiums of the health and nursing care insurance are tax deductible without any limits - for any part of the premium which is paid for benefits equivalent to those of the statutory health and nursing care insurance.

The private comprehensive health insurance tariffs of HALLESCHE are appr. 80 % to 95 % tax deductible according to the respective tariff and benefits, the private compulsory nursing care insurance is 100 % tax deductible.

In order that the premium payments may be considered with your tax we shall transfer the necessary data to the respective tax authority and shall inform you with a respective confirmation thereof.

For this we require your approval and your tax ID number as well as the tax ID number of possible other persons in your contract.

I agree that certain personal data (names, contract data, tax ID number, premiums paid and possible information of premium refunds) may be transferred by HALLESCHE to the tax authorities to evaluate the tax deductible health and nursing care insurance premiums.

I further agree to HALLESCHE investigating my tax ID number as well as the tax ID number of possible other persons in your contract with the German Bundeszentralamt für Steuern - Central Authority for Taxes - for this purpose.

I am aware that the tax deductibility of the health and nursing care premiums is possibly reduced, if I do not agree to this or if I make use of my right to revoke this agreement entirely.

An agreement of data transfer may be also given back dated for the past two premium years. After the given agreement a contradiction to the data transfer is only possible for future premium years.

Remark: The stating of the tax ID number of the main person insured is necessary for the passing on of data for persons insured in any case.
